

York, R. M. Granbury, Montgomery, Ala., Edward Brown (the carpenter), Harrisburg, Pa. In addition the names of twelve colored muleteers, whose homes were in Newport News or in that vicinity, are given.

The cargo of the Armenian was valued on her manifest at $20,400 and she was the first of the five and mule carrying vessels running from Newport News to be torpedoed, although several others have been set on fire or the horses and mules poisoned.

President Wilson Receives Full Data On Torpedoing of Ship

WINDSOR, Vt., July 1.—President Wilson today received a detailed report on the torpedoing of the steamer Armenian.

Acting Secretary of State Osborne mailed State Department advices on the Armenian by special delivery instead of telegraphing them. She object was to prevent any possible leaks and to give the President all the information in the hands of the department.

The President declined to comment on the situation created by the loss of Armenian lives aboard the steamer, but he does not intend to return to Washington immediately. Further dispatches from Secretary of State Lansing are due here late this afternoon. The President will have nothing to say until these are fully digested.

Though it was admitted that the loss of American lives aboard the Armenian might complicate the German negotiations, members of the President's party doubted if cause existed for new protests. Particularly, they pointed out, this country would have no grounds for protest if the Armenian was a chartered "war" vessel and if the Americans were in the employ of the British government.

Despite a heavy downpour of rain, the President and Dr. Grayson took an hour's walk this morning in the Har-laden woods. President Wilson carried heavy rubbers and a heavy rubber coat and hat. The downpour continued early afternoon making it unlikely that the President would go motoring.

JURY TO GET HENRY CASE BY TOMORROW

Former Justice Wright to Finish Closing Argument This Afternoon.

The case of John William Henry, former head of the firm of Lewis Johnson & Co., charged with the embezzlement of checks aggregating $4,000, entrusted to him by Mrs. Isabel Barklie, of Wayne, Pa., for stock speculation, will not reach the jury before tomorrow.

Former Justice Daniel Thew Wright, counsel for the accused broker, had not finished his closing argument when court took a recess shortly before 1 o'clock. He expected to conclude late this afternoon, when District Attorney John E. Leakey will begin the final argument for the Government.

Judge Wright gave one of the most vigorous demonstrations of fiery oratory ever witnessed in the District Supreme Court. After having analyzed the evidence in a most minute manner, time and again passing to the jury exhibits in the case for examination, he launched into the history of the liberty of man, beginning with the Magna Charter and bringing it down to the present time.

U. S. RESERVE NOTES MISUSED, IS CHARGED

Federal Board Likely to Probe Allegations Involving War- ring Nations.

On the strength of allegations that banking firms had used Federal reserve notes in floating loans to belligerents in Europe and in financing purchases by these belligerents here, an inquiry probably will be instituted by the Federal reserve board at the instance of former Congressman H. Robert Fowler of Illinois.

Mr. Fowler made complaint to the board, and at the suggestion of Governor Hammon he is to file a formal statement to be considered by the board. These questions will be submitted in the next few days.

"Since the Federal reserve board is given discretionary powers with regard to the issuance of Federal reserve notes is not the board responsible for the use to which that money is put?"

"Since Federal reserve notes are issued under the control of an official board, is not the Government of the United States responsible for any misuse of such notes, particularly if it is found that such notes have been used in such a manner as to make it appear that this government has not remained neutral in the present war?"

"May the Government of the United States not be liable for the payment of huge indemnities in case such facts are established?"

Rumors that more than $200,000,000 of Federal reserve notes have been used by banking firms to float loans to belligerent countries and establish credits for those countries to enable them to purchase war munitions are being investigated by Mr. Fowler and others representing Labor's National Peace Council. Mr. Fowler stated today that he expects the board to have the information as to just how this money has been used.

Reverend Mott was read from Bishop Harding, whose illness prevented his presence, and from Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood and the Rev. George F. Dudley, of the Episcopal Church. The celebration was made by the Rev. H. Stevenson, of Bethany Church. Dr. Mott, in responding, made reference to his pleasant association with the church for the last twenty years.

HORSES STRICKEN BY MYSTERIOUS DISEASE

Department of Agriculture Un- able to Diagnose Cases At Rockville Farm.

A mysterious disease, no diagnosis of which has yet been made by experts in the pathological division of the Department of Agriculture, has infected horses on the farm of Walter B. Mobley, near Rockville.

Two animals died of the ailment and another is now under the care of veterinarians. The ailment first was thought to be meningitis, but this was declared erroneous by Dr. Buckley, of the Department of Agriculture, who thoroughly inspected the sick animal.

He declared today that the disease probably was not infectious, and that the ailing horse was improving rapidly. He expressed confidence that the disease would not spread beyond the Mobley farm.

Sugar Freighter Sunk By German Submarine

LONDON, July 1.—The British steamship Scottish Monarch, which left New York on June 16 for Manchester with a cargo of sugar, was sunk by a German submarine off the Irish coast on Tuesday. So far the captain and nineteen of the crew of thirty-six have reached port. The crew took to the boats in a heavy sea, and one containing twenty men was picked up off the Hook Point lighthouse, near Dunmore harbor, and were landed at Dunmore. It is feared the sixteen men not heard from have been lost.

The Scottish Monarch was 400 feet long, and was of 5,043 tons gross. She was built in 1906, and was owned by the Monarch Steamship Company, of Glasgow.

SLAV ARMY BLOCKS GALICIAN ADVANCE

Grand Duke Forms New Line of Battle Along Bug and Gnla Lipa Rivers.

PETROGRAD, July 1.—The Russians have halted their retreat in Galicia. The Grand Duke is forming his forces along the Bug and the Gnla Lipa and is preparing to give battle. The Austro-German attempts to force this new line have been repulsed with heavy losses.

An official statement from the war office today admitted that Slavs continue to fall back on their own territory, north and northeast of Lemberg, before superior forces of the enemy. But east and southeast of Lemberg, the Grand Duke's armies not only are blocking the enemy's further advance but are smashing at the Austro-German lines in a succession of counter attacks.

"Along the western bank of the Gnla Lipa, determined enemy attacks were beaten off all day Monday and Tuesday," said the official statement. "The enemy was thrown back from the river with serious losses and failed to renew the attack Tuesday night."

"Along the Dniester, particularly near Halicz, we counter attacked, taking several hundred prisoners and driving off an enemy force attempting to cross the stream."

German Attack Driven Back With Heavy Loss In Region of Verdun

PARIS, July 1.—The German crown prince's army has been beaten and thrown back with severe losses in attacks upon the French positions around Verdun.

Dispatches from the front today confirmed reports that the crown prince directed determined attacks upon the French lines to counteract the French drive north of Arras. Heavy shelling by the French artillery forced the Germans back to their trenches before they approached within many rods of the French entanglements.

East of the Binarville road and on the ridge east of Metzler, the Germans have attempted to rush the French positions. Their attacks, according to this afternoon's official communique, were thrown back with absolutely no gains.

Except for intermittent cannonading, the front north of Arras has seen no fighting in the last twelve hours.

RUSSIANS DRIVE OFF GERMAN SQUADRON

Naval Attack on Windau Foiled and Torpedo Boat Strikes Mine and Sinks.

PETROGRAD, July 1.—A German torpedo boat was sunk in the Baltic off Windau, Monday, the war office announced today. The German squadron of one battleship, four light cruisers and several torpedo boats was put to flight after shelling Windau.

The Germans apparently were attempting to disembark troops near Windau for a land expedition against the Russian seaport of Riga. They appeared from the direction of Gothland and opened fire from close range, doing considerable damage.

A Russian torpedo boat flotilla engaged the enemy warships and one of the German torpedo boats, in fleeing, struck a mine. The German squadron then withdrew.

ATHENS, July 1.—A British cruiser and one destroyer raided the Asia Minor coast on Tuesday, sinking several Turkish sailing vessels and one steamer, and destroying the telegraph station and several houses at Aisanof.

British Workers Make Pledge Good

On Strength of Enrollments, Lloyd George Makes Concessions in Compulsory Bill.

LONDON, July 1.—The seven days granted the trades unionists by David Lloyd George, minister of munitions, to make good their pledge that they would prove they were able to supply the needed munitions workers, without recourse to compulsion, has expired.

W. E. Morgan, Lloyd George's chief assistant in this department of his work, issues the following statement: "The enrollments are so highly satisfactory that I think I can say that the voluntary system has justified itself as applied to munitions workers. In the last two days the enrollment has averaged 10,000 a day."

Lloyd George announced substantial concessions to labor in the form of amendments to the munitions bill. The chief amendment limits the power of compulsory arbitration of labor disputes in fields outside the actual manufacture of munitions. As amended this prerogative will be exercised by the government only when the munitions work is affected.

The coal miners particularly objected to being subject to forced arbitration, as they contended that the miners never have been shirkers.
